A student shall be obliged to participate in classes of the following semester from its beginning regardless of the date of completing the previous semester.

1. A student participating in research or implementation works in which he achieved the same learning outcomes as those required for a given module can request for this module or individual learning outcomes within a module to be credited as completed.
2. The dean decides about the credit referred to in paragraph 1. For this purpose he can consult the module co-ordinator or a scholar responsible for the given research or implementation works.

5. In issues concerning credit granting and exams a student has the right to appeal to the dean within 14 days of announcing the results of learning outcomes verification.
6. Within 14 days of the announcement of exam results, a student has the right to see his written work if it is the basis for crediting a given learning outcome.
7. Using unauthorised forms of assistance during the verification of learning outcomes (including submitting a plagiarised work) results in a negative result of this verification.

1. In justified cases at a student's request the dean may decide on a commission credit or an oral commission exam, which should take place as soon as possible. The request should specify the reasons for its submission and be submitted within 5 working days of the date of announcing the results of a re-taken exam or of the last date of obtaining a credit.

2. Commission forms of verification referred to in paragraph 1 shall be conducted before a commission appointed by the dean. The commission shall consist of: the dean or in exceptional cases an academic teacher with at least a doctor's degree authorised by the dean acting as the chairman; the person who conducted the previous verification of learning outcomes and another expert on the scope of the learning outcomes being verified.

2) that the student should repeat the semester in cases other than those specified in point 1;

3) that the student should be removed from the register of students;

subject to paragraph 2.

2. The decision referred to in paragraph 1, points 1 and 2 shall be taken at the student's request.

3. Repeating a module and obtaining leave to study referred to in paragraph 1, point 1 shall be subject to the following rules:

1) the deadline to complete a module when conditionally studying the next semester cannot exceed the duration of a semester or a year necessary to complete the uncompleted module.

2) failing to complete other modules in the next semester does not exclude the possibility of obtaining leave to study in the next semester; the provision of paragraph 1, points 1-2 shall apply accordingly;

3) the decision cannot be taken if its execution would disrupt the sequence of teaching the subjects.

4. Rules concerning repeating a semester in the event of a student failing to complete the last semester of the thesis writing seminar shall be decided by the dean in agreement with the thesis supervisor.

5. On first-cycle studies a semester can be repeated no more than twice, on second-cycle studies once and on long-cycle master degree programmes not more than three times. This provision shall not be applied in the case specified in paragraph 4.

6. Each failure to complete modules repeated during one semester shall be treated as using one attempt to repeat a semester.

7. The decision referred to in paragraph 1, point 3 can be made also in the case when a student fails to pay a required tuition fee for an educational service, repeating a semester or repeating a module within the deadline.

8. (repealed).

9. If a student repeats a semester, he is obliged to repeat only those modules from which he previously did not receive a positive mark. The modules from which a student received positive marks do not need to be verified again (a repeated entry is not made in the studies documentation).

10. If the teaching curriculum is modified in a way which prevents a student from repeating an uncompleted module, the dean shall specify the learning outcomes, the manner of achieving and verifying them.

1. At a student's request the dean can allow achieving some learning outcomes from the semester higher than that resulting from semester entry.

2. (repealed).

1. A student who has been removed from the register of students after completing at least the first year of first-cycle studies and long-cycle master degree studies or at least the first semester of second-cycle studies can resume the studies after a break no longer than 3 years counting from the day on which the uncompleted semester finished.
2. A student who was removed from the register of students for the only reason that he failed to submit his final thesis by the official deadline may request the dean to be allowed to resume the studies on the last semester in order to complete and submit the final thesis and to take the final exam, on the condition that more than three years have not elapsed from the day of removal from the register of students. The dean shall take a decision after obtaining consent from the supervisor.
3. A person applying for a resumption of studies submits an application to the dean of the relevant faculty.
4. The decision concerning the resumption of studies shall be taken by the dean.
5. A student who is allowed to resume studies is entered for the semester not later than the one following the last semester the student completed before being removed from the register of students. The semesters for which the student was registered conditionally are not treated as completed.
6. A person who was removed from the register of students as a result of a final decision of the disciplinary commission can apply for a resumption of studies on a given study programme and year of studies within one year of the punishment becoming expunged.
7. A student can be re-admitted only once. In exceptional cases the rector can decide to allow another resumption of studies.
8. The decision concerning resuming studies shall take the course of studies to date into consideration.

§ 28

1. A student may apply for leave in the event of:
 - 1) a long-term illness (sick leave);
 - 2) having a child or taking care of a child (child care leave);
 - 3) other important circumstances (dean's leave).
2. The dean grants leave at a student's reason-supported request. In situations referred to in paragraph 1, points 2 and 3 the request should be submitted immediately after the reason for applying for the leave arose.
3. A student can be granted short-term leave, maximum 6 weeks in duration, or semester leave (resulting from repeating a semester) or one-year leave.
4. Granting short-term leave does not release a student from the obligation of respecting the semester completion dates.
5. One-year leave can be granted after a student has completed a semester of studies. In justified cases the dean can grant leave to a student who has not completed a semester of studies.
6. The total duration of the leave granted by the dean cannot exceed 2 years during the whole period of studies. This provision shall not apply to sick leave.
7. The basis for granting sick leave is a student's request approved by a doctor. The rector decides on the application form's content.
8. Granting leave shall be confirmed by an entry in the index book.
9. A student resuming the studies after leave is obliged to make up any curriculum differences resulting from a change of the curriculum of the studies he resumes. The provision of § 25 shall apply accordingly.
10. During leave a student retains his student entitlements. The entitlements to material help shall be governed by separate regulations.

11. In justified cases with the dean's consent a student who is on leave can participate in some classes and complete some modules. The provision of § 26, paragraph 2 shall apply accordingly.

§ 28a:

1. In the case of a short-term justified absence from classes which does not require using leave a student is obliged to explain the reasons to the teacher no later than during the first class after the reason for the absence ceased to exist.
2. In a situation specified in paragraph 1 the teacher shall inform the student on what conditions and in what manner he should catch up with the work.
3. If it is impossible to catch up with the work in the way specified in paragraph 2, the rules of completing the classes and the module shall be decided by the dean after consulting with the teacher conducting the classes or with the module coordinator.

VI. FINAL THESIS

1. The studies are completed by submitting a final thesis and taking the final exam.
2. A student submits the final thesis in the form specified in the curriculum; submitting the final thesis is a condition for the completion of the last semester of classes within the module from which the student prepares his final thesis (thesis writing seminar).
3. A student is obliged to submit the final thesis no later than by:
 - 1) 15 March on studies finishing in the winter semester;
 - 2) 25 September on studies finishing in the summer semester.
4. At the student's request approved by the supervisor, in justified cases the dean can determine a later date for final thesis submission.
5. If a supervisor is absent for a longer period of time, which could affect the student's timely submission of the final thesis, the dean is obliged to appoint a person who will take over the thesis supervision. Changing the supervisor during the last 6 months before the date of completing the studies can be the basis for an extension of the deadline for submitting the thesis.
6. A student who has not submitted the final thesis within a specified deadline shall be removed from the register of students.

1. A student shall prepare the bachelor thesis (engineer's thesis) under a supervision of a qualified academic teacher with at least a doctor's degree. A bachelor thesis (engineer's thesis) can also be supervised by a specialist from outside of the University with at least a doctor's degree subject to the dean's authorisation. The dean, after consulting with the faculty council, can authorise an academic teacher with a professional title of master who belongs to the core staff complement of a given study programme to supervise a bachelor thesis (engineer's thesis).
2. A student shall prepare the master thesis under a supervision of a qualified academic teacher with at least a doktor habilitowany degree. The dean, after consulting the faculty council, can authorise an academic teacher with at least a doctor's degree or a specialist from outside the University with at least a doctor's degree to supervise a master thesis.
3. In particularly justified cases (e.g. artistic programmes, practical studies, interdisciplinary studies, international studies) a master thesis may be supervised by more than one person.
4. Only a thesis elaborated by the student on his own can be considered a final thesis. In exceptional cases, if fragments elaborated by the student on his own can be identified, a thesis prepared jointly by a team can be considered a final thesis.

5. The subject matter of final theses should correspond to the study programme. When choosing a subject scientific interests of a student, research programmes of a chair, institute or faculty and the faculty's ability to exercise scientific supervision over a given final thesis must be taken into consideration.
6. If a suspicion arises that a thesis violates intellectual property rights the supervisor shall notify the rector of this fact in writing.
7. In a situation referred to in paragraph 6, the dean shall immediately notify the rector in writing and suspend specifying the date of the final thesis defence or issuing the diploma until a legally valid disciplinary or penal resolution has been made.
8. Paragraph 6 shall apply accordingly to final thesis reviewers and to other members of the examination commission.
9. The dean refers a final thesis for review after it has been approved by the supervisor, subject to paragraphs 6-8. The dean can issue detailed rules of referring thesis for review.
10. A final thesis shall be assessed by a supervisor and a reviewer. A thesis is considered to be granted a positive assessment if it is given two positive marks.
11. If a reviewer awards a negative mark for the student's final thesis, the dean shall appoint another reviewer. If the second reviewer awards the thesis a positive mark, the dean allows the student to take the final exam. If the second reviewer awarded a negative mark for the thesis, it cannot be the basis of completing the studies. In this case the student must prepare a new final thesis. The provision of § 27, paragraph 2 shall apply accordingly.

VII. FINAL EXAM

1. A student shall be allowed to take the final exam on the condition that he has achieved all the learning outcomes foreseen in the curriculum and has obtained positive marks for the final thesis.
2. The final exam shall be conducted before a commission appointed by the dean consisting of at least three persons, including the chair and the supervisor. At least one of the members of the examination board must have at least the degree of doktor habilitowany.
3. The final exam should take place within six months of the date referred to in § 29, paragraph 3, and in the case of a student doing part of the studies abroad or a student participating in student placements abroad – within six months of the student's return. If a supervisor or reviewer is absent for a longer period of time, which could affect the timely conduct of the final exam specified in this paragraph, the dean shall apply a person who will take over the duties of the supervisor or reviewer.
4. At a student's or a supervisor's request submitted no later than 7 days before the arranged date of the final exam, the dean shall rule for it to be conducted on an open basis. This request should include information about the expected number of guests.

1. The final exam is an oral exam or has the form of an artistic presentation, subject to § 13.
2. If a final thesis is written in a foreign language, the final exam can be conducted in this language.
3. To assess the results of the exam the marks specified in § 23, paragraph 1 shall be used.

1. If a student receives an unsatisfactory mark from the final exam or he fails to take the exam on the specified date, the dean shall determine the second date for the exam. The exam can be re-taken no earlier than after one month and no later than three months after the date of the first exam.

2. In justified cases the dean can assign a new first date for a final exam. The request to have a new first date assigned should be submitted no later than 7 days after the reason justifying not taking the final exam ceased to exist.
3. If a student receives an unsatisfactory mark from the second (re-taken) term of the final exam, the dean can decide on conducting a commission final exam. The commission appointed by the dean shall include, apart from the dean, the supervisor and the reviewer, two additional persons with at least of a doctor's degree in the field corresponding to the subject matter of the final thesis. If a student receives an unsatisfactory mark from this exam, the dean issues a decision to remove the student from the register of students, without a right to be re-admitted.

1. A student can complete the studies if he takes the final exam and is awarded at least a satisfactory mark. A graduate is issued a diploma of completing higher education studies which confirms obtaining qualifications of an appropriate degree.
2. The basis for the calculation of the final result from the studies are:
 - 1) the arithmetic mean from all the end marks received for completing modules during the whole period of studies including unsatisfactory marks, rounded to two decimal places; marks from physical education are not included in the calculation of the average;
 - 2) the mark for the thesis established on the basis of the marks awarded by the supervisor and the reviewer, including marks from practical work on artistic study programmes; any disputes shall be resolved by the commission chair;
 - 3) the mark from the final exam established on the basis of partial marks awarded for this exam. The final result is the sum of 1/2 of the mark referred to in point 1 and 1/4 of each of the marks referred to in points 2 and 3 (each of the components of the sum shall be rounded to two decimal places). If the mark referred to in point 1 is lower than 3.0, the final result cannot be higher than satisfactory.
3. In the diploma awarded on completion of the studies the final result calculated according to the following rule is entered:
 - 1) up to 3.25 – satisfactory;
 - 2) 3.26 to 3.75 - satisfactory plus;
 - 3) 3.76 to 4.25 - good;
 - 4) 4.26 to 4.60 – good plus;
 - 5) 4.61 to 4.80 – very good;
 - 6) from 4.81 – excellent.
4. The examination commission can increase the mark referred to in paragraph 3 by half a mark if the student was awarded a very good mark for the final thesis and the average from the studies was at least 4.0. The mark referred to in paragraph 3 cannot be increased to excellent. A note shall be made in the index book and in the final exam report concerning increasing the mark.

VIII. INTERIM PROVISIONS
